DETERMINATION OF THE AUTHORITY AS TO COSTS

On 10 March 2006 I granted an application for an employment relationship problem to be removed to the Court for it to hear and determine.

The applicant is now seeking a contribution to costs for attendance in person to present submissions on the application for removal.

The respondent opposes any award for costs on the basis that costs were not sought in the application for removal and the determination of the Authority did not reserve the matter of costs.

I have given consideration to the submissions made by both parties. I consider it appropriate in this matter to allow costs to lie where they fall.
